

Do you want to be a blended learning teacher?

If you can answer YES to these questions*, you might qualify for a fully-sponsored British Council training course:

1. Have you got a Cambridge CELTA?
2. Have you got teaching experience?
3. Can you demonstrate interest in/experience of e-learning or remote teaching?

The training will take place in July - August (approximately six hours a week for eight weeks). You must commit to being available during this period.

On successful completion of this course, you will get a certificate as an e-moderator and e-learning teacher. You may also be eligible to apply for a British Council blended teaching job.

* These are essential criteria. Please apply only if you meet these criteria.

Locations

The training programme will be conducted online. However, blended learning involves both face-to-face and online teaching. Therefore, we are primarily looking for teachers based in and around Delhi, Mumbai, Pune, Chennai and Bangalore. Teachers in neighbouring cities may also apply.

The deadline for applications is Friday 12 June.

If you meet these specifications, please fill in the accompanying professional profile, and send it to Samridhi.Sagar@in.britishcouncil.org . Please note that CVs will not be accepted.

Please also note that this is not a job application, but rather an expression of interest in a sponsored British Council training course. While you may have the chance to apply for a job at the end of the training course, this notice in itself is not a job offer.

What happens next?

If you meet the requirements, we will contact you for a discussion on the phone.

What is blended learning?

Blended learning is the newest British Council teaching programme in India which combines face-to-face classroom methods with e-learning activities and remote teaching. myEnglish, the British Council's new course for students, consists of the following:

Face-to-Face | Online Virtual Classroom | Guided online learning
